

THE TITLE

by

A. Author

AUTHOR A. AUTHOR
PO BOX 12345
123124, NV.

author@email.com

FADE IN:

TITLE OVER:

TEXT

INT. OUTSIDE ELWOOD'S PLACE - NIGHT

ELWOOD
Hey Sam... Hey Lloyd, anybody
call for me on the phone?

LLOYD
No, no calls. Some guy left this card. Cop. Said he'd be back.

ELWOOD
This here's my brother Jake. He just got outta the joint. He's gonna be staying with me for a few weeks.

LLOYD
Oh OK...

OLD MAN
Did you get me my cheese whiz, Boy?

Elwood tosses a can of Cheeze Whiz to the old man.

FLASHBACK TO:

EXT. MURDER SCENE, HIGHWAY, VERMONT - DUSK

STARKS lies bleeding -- eyes half open -- by OFFICER HARRISON'S dead, bloodied body as falling SNOW slowly whitens them both and covers any FOOTPRINTS that may have been left behind. We hear a distant gavel delivering a distant judgment...

STARKS (V.S.)
I don't know how it happened.

INT. COURTROOM, SMALL TOWN VERMONT

The JUDGE nods as he hands the JURY FOREMAN back the verdict.

JURY FOREMAN
On the count of first degree murder, we find the defendant, William Starks, not guilty by reason of insanity.

FADE OUT: